UC:P316 Photographs of Robert (Robin) James Brocklehurst (1899-1995)

Robert James Brocklehurst (1899–1995), also known as Robin, came up to University College from Harrow in 1917, in the middle of the First World War. He left briefly to serve in the Tank Corps from 1918–19, but then returned to Oxford, where he got a First in Physiology in 1921. From 1926–8 he was a Radcliffe Travelling Fellow. Having then spent some time at University College London, in 1930 he was appointed Professor of Physiology at the University of Bristol, where he remained until his retirement in 1965.

These photographs were collected by Brocklehurst while he was at Oxford, and were presented to the College by his granddaughters in September 2015 as Accession No. 1161. They are group photographs which relate to his time at University College in 1917–21, and include some rowing photographs, as well as some photographs of the whole College.

Catalogued in September 2015.

Group photograph (mounted) of members of the College, including the Master and some Fellows, wearing evening dress. It is uninscribed on the front, but on the back is a note "R. G. Brocklehurst Esq.
