UC:P299 Ephemera of William Kennedy Fotheringham (d. 1998)

William Kennedy Fotheringham came up to University College in 1936 to read Law. After serving in the army, mainly in Africa, during the Second World War, he trained as a solicitor, and then practised in his native Scotland. Fotheringham died in 1998; there is an obituary to him in the 1999 issue of the "University College Record".

These items were given to the College in June 2013 as Accession No. 1057.

Catalogued in June 2013.
