

Three College Photographs, 1913/14

These photographs were given to the College by an unknown donor in October 2007 as Accession No. 741. They clearly all belonged to an undergraduate from this period, but there is no means of identifying him.

1913

Two photographs of the University College Second Torpid of 1913, one taken in a formal pose, the other showing them on the river, which have been put onto a single mount. Names of rowers are given. Both photographs are in poor condition.

Size of mount: 430 by 835 mm.

UC:P249/P1/2

1913

Mounted group photograph titled "University College Oxford Freshmen 1913". No names are given. Like UC:P249/P1/2, this is also in poor condition.

Size: 390 by 500 mm.

1914

Mounted group photograph titled "University College Oxford 1914", showing undergraduates and Fellows. All the sitters are in dinner jackets, except for nine men in rowing blazers, which suggests that this photograph was taken before the Bump Supper held when the College went Head of the River in Eights Week that year.

Size: 400 by 510 mm.
