

Services and Preachers on Sundays

Michaelmas Term 2020

These services are recorded in chapel, where we have space for a socially-distanced choir, but unfortunately not anyone else as a congregation.

The Revd Katie Tupling

Katie Tupling is the Disability Adviser for the Diocese of Oxford. Previously she worked as a Youth and Children's worker across Birmingham, and as a parish priest in Derby and Sheffield. As co-founder of 'Disability and Jesus' she co-authored Pilgrims in the dark with Bill Braviner and Dave Lucas (D&J 2018). She also co-authored Worship and Disability: a Kingdom for all (Grove 2018). Katie is in her dissertation year for an MA in Contextual Theology through the lens of Disability. She loves narrowboats, chocolate and real ale!

22 November: Choral Evensong

Dr Mirjam Schilling

Mirjam Schilling came to Oxford as a Postdoctoral Researcher in Virology in 2017. Her main research interests are virus host interactions and the innate immune system. Besides working in the lab she has finished a Diploma of Theological studies in 2019 and is currently working part-time on a DPhil in Science and Religion to explore the relationship of viruses and Theology.
