

Job Description

Deputy Head Porter

Accountable to:	The Head Porter
Accountable for:	N/A
Liaison with:	Fellows, Students, Staff, Old Members, University and Public Figures

Overview of Role:

The University College Lodge is the public face of the College to all past, present and prospective members of the College community. A professional presentation of the Lodge to members of the College, visitors and guests is key to ensuring that the College remains a serious and well respected academic institution within the Oxford Colleges and wider academic life. Excellent customer service skills are equally essential to maintaining our reputation and good standing in our community.

The Deputy Head Porter is responsible to the Head Porter and the Domestic Bursar for the leadership and day to day management and operation of the University College Lodge by the Lodge staff and for ensuring that these standards are met. Student welfare, wellbeing and safety are at the forefront of the responsibilities of the Lodge; building appropriate relationships between the MCR, JCR, individual students and the Porters in pursuit of wellbeing is an important part of the Deputy Head Porter role, as is support and signposting to appropriate welfare agencies in the wider university.

He/she is required to deputise for the Head Porter as necessary and assumes his/her authority for reinforcing the University College values, behaviours and standards that underpin the success of the organisation.

The Deputy Head Porter does not have line management responsibility for the Lodge Porters but is responsible for supervising their daily tasks. The Deputy fully deputises for the Head Porter in his/her absence and assumes his/her authority as a result. The Deputy Head Porter and the Head Porter must deconflict in terms of absence from College most of the time. Any significant overlap in absence can be authorised only by the Domestic Bursar
